DAAD Deutscher Akademischer Austausch Dienst
German Academic Exchange Service

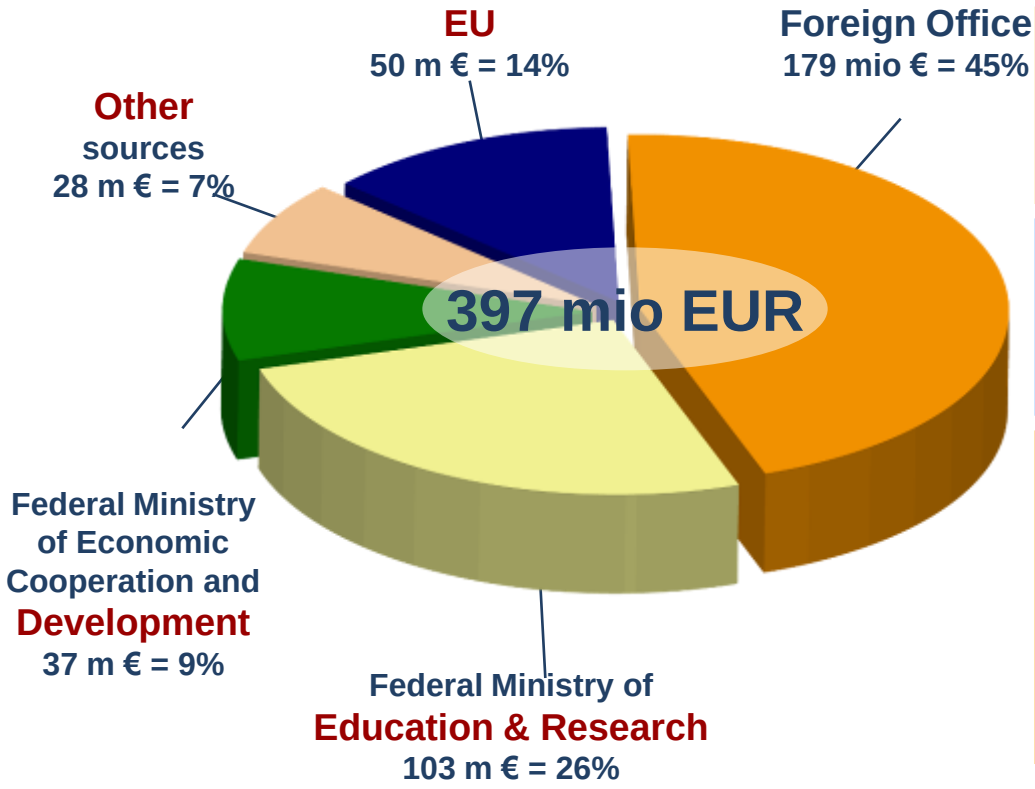
Europe and Beyond: Partnership Models, TNE and Bologna

Ulrich Grothus
Deputy Secretary-General

Go Global 4 / London March 26, 2010

DAAD: Some Facts and Figures

DAAD Budget 2010
€ 397m



Foreigners
(DAAD: 41,700)

Germans
(DAAD: 25,300)

ERASMUS
grants for Germans
(EU: 31,000)

20% students
60% graduates, PHD
20% staff

250 programmes

About 550 professors in 88 selection committees

The Rationale of Cooperation

„Market driven“ and „public good“ approaches

Comparative strengths (and weaknesses) of German HEI:
A focus on the sciences and engineering

Strong government support for internationalization effort

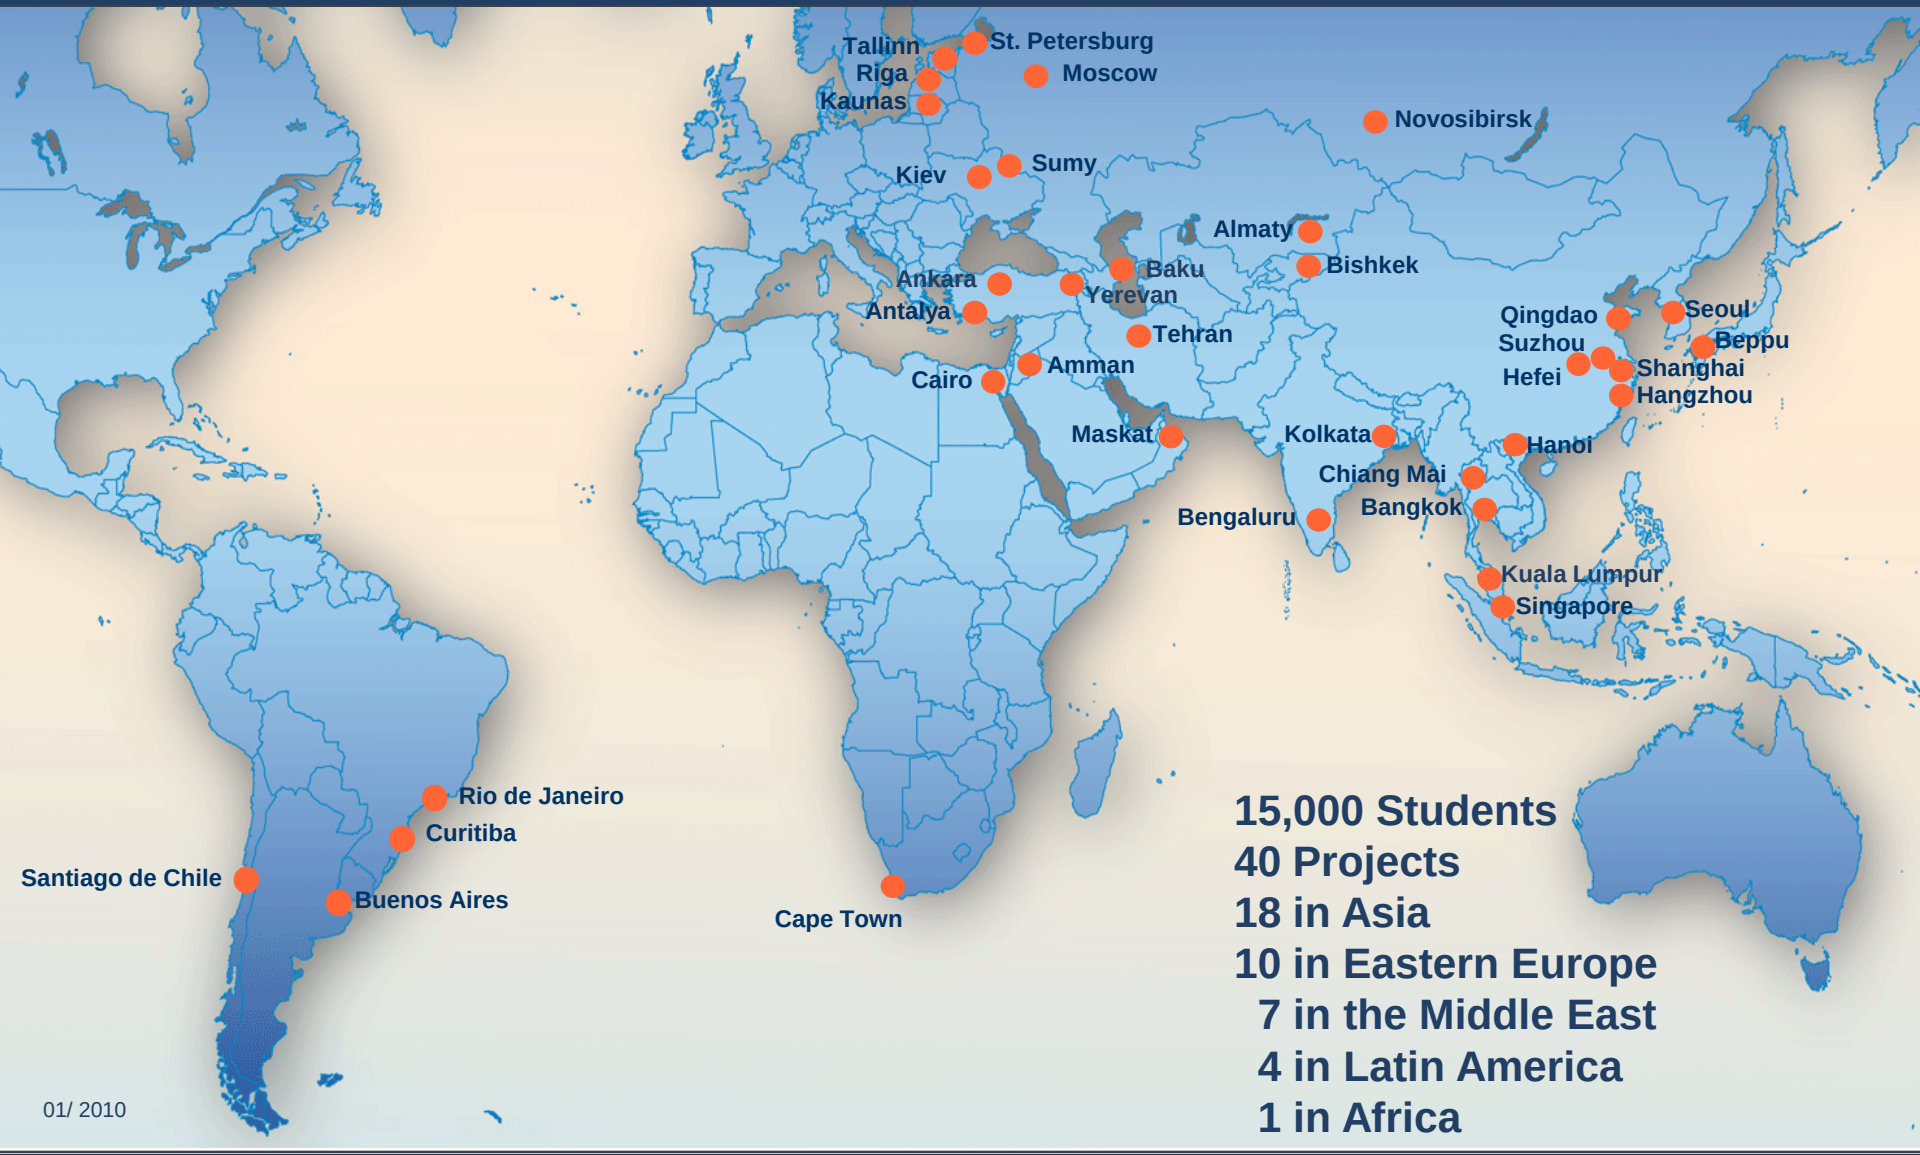
The Impact of Bologna

„a system of comparable and compatible degrees“

Recruitment of international graduate students

Transnational education:
German universities and study programs abroad (since the 90s)
total budget 2010: 23.4 m€

Study Programmes of German Universities Abroad



The Impact of Bologna

Building bridges (or „lighthouses“):

Bilateral/regional cooperation in research and teaching

5 „Centers of Excellence for Teaching and Research to Train Future Leaders in Subsaharan Africa“ (since 2008): 2.5 m€ p.a.

4 „Centers of Excellence“ in other regions (since 2009): 2.3 m€ p.a.

Cooperative Centers of Excellence

Welcome Our Speakers

Steve Woodfield

Senior Researcher in Higher Education Policy
Kingston University, UK

Dennis Murray

Executive Director,
International Education Association of Australia (IEAA)