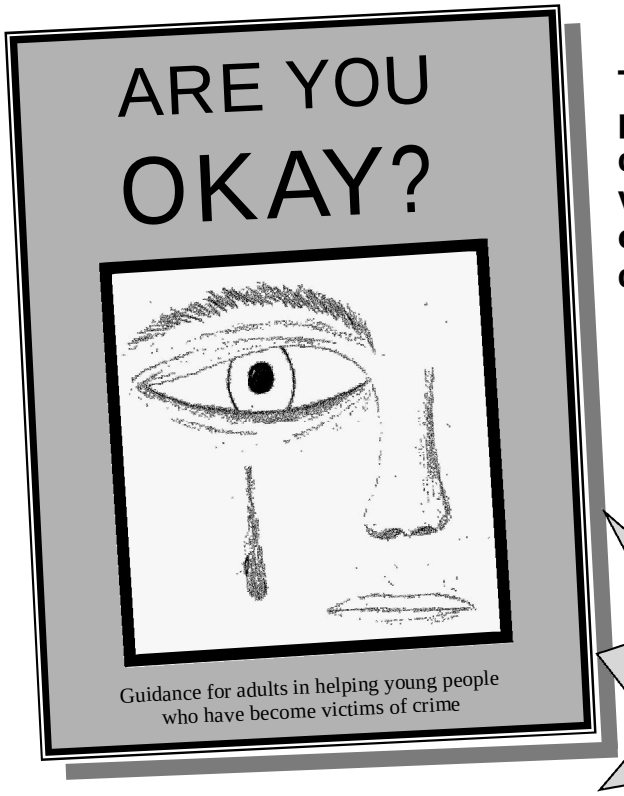
Forthcoming publications!

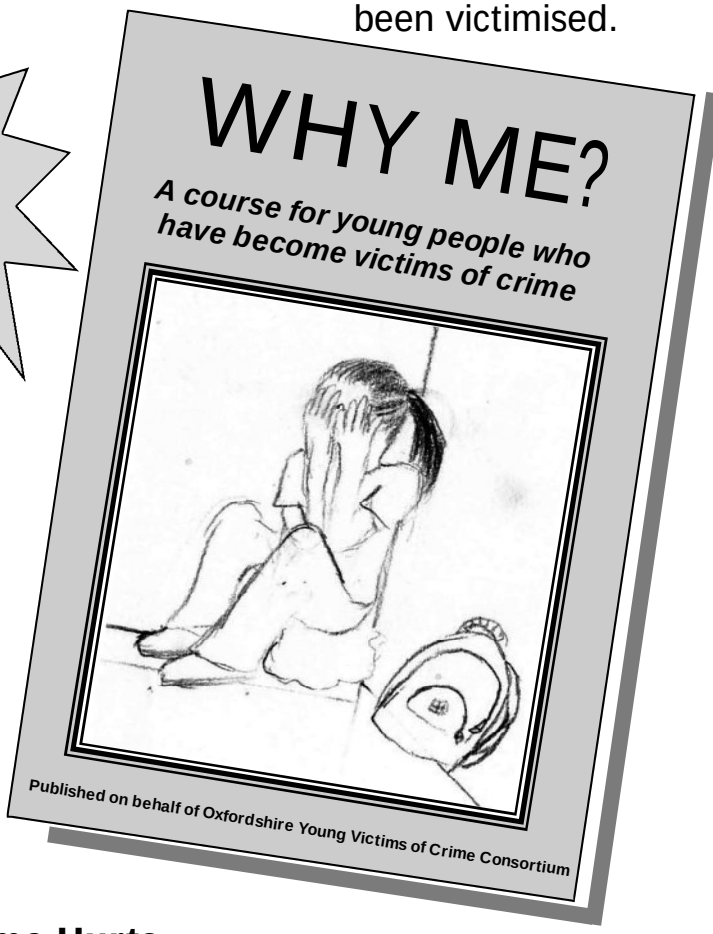
Oxfordshire Young Victims of Crime Project



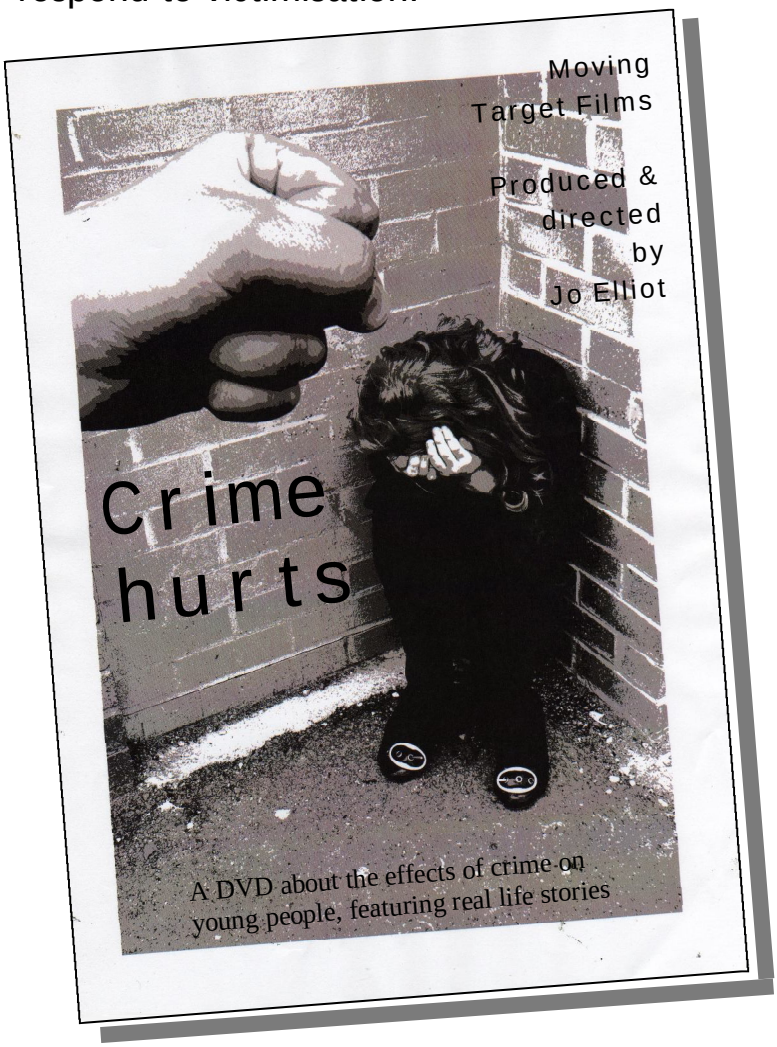
The Oxfordshire Young Victims of Crime Project is producing resources to help other professionals in the county and beyond to support young people who are victimised. These mock-ups are to give an indication only, and the titles, artwork and formats are likely to change. They will be available Spring 2010.

Why Me?
Course materials developed during the pilot, which can be used to support young people who have been victimised.

Artwork by young people, submitted for the YVCP art competition



Are You Okay?
Guidance for any adult working with young people to help them recognise and respond to victimisation.



Crime Hurts
This is a DVD produced by local film-maker Jo Elliott, which features young people who have been involved in the pilot project, talking about their experiences. Soundtrack song by Alex Grew and 'South Parade'.

If you would like to be put onto a mailing list for information about these resources when they are available, please email:

peter.wallis@oxfordshire.gov.uk