independentcommission
on youth crime and antisocial behaviour

Addressing youth crime and antisocial behaviour:

Time for a fresh start

Anthony Salz

Conference Chair

independentcommission
on youth crime and antisocial behaviour

Time for a fresh start

The report of the Independent Commission
on Youth Crime and Antisocial Behaviour

independentcommission
on youth crime and antisocial behaviour

Three key principles

- Prevention
- Restoration
- Integration

independentcommission
on youth crime and antisocial behaviour

Three key proposals

- A structured programme of investment in evidence-based prevention
- A major expansion of restorative justice
- Targets to halve the numbers of under-18s in custody to 1,000 or less.

independentcommission
on youth crime and antisocial behaviour

Recent developments

- Ministry of Justice Green Paper on sentencing and rehabilitation

Ministry of JUSTICE

Breaking the Cycle:
Effective Punishment, Rehabilitation and Sentencing of Offenders

- Home Office consultation on antisocial behaviour

Home Office

MORE EFFECTIVE RESPONSES TO ANTI-SOCIAL BEHAVIOUR

- Graham Allen Review

Early Intervention: The Next Steps

independentcommission
on youth crime and antisocial behaviour

A fresh start

"The damaged lives of those who become our most serious and prolific young offenders, and the high price that falls to society when we fail them, offers the last and most compelling reason why the time has come for a fresh start."

Independent Commission on Youth Crime