EDI Supporting learning and performance

Nigel Snook
Chief Executive
Education Development International plc

Now is the time:

- Aligning government, business and individual interests to create a 21st century framework for skills development.

The vital ingredients of successful vocational development ?

- Information – Personal choices.
- Experience – The real world.
- Qualifications – Quality assurance.
- Technology – Flexible and consistent.
- Standards – No short cuts.